

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

At Atlantic Precision Engineering Ltd, we're passionate about building a brighter, fairer society. And when it comes to doing our part, we're serious about our commitments.

We sincerely believe it is our responsibility to champion equality, and create something better.

That's why we're committed to the Modern Slavery Act.

What is the Modern Slavery Act 2015?

The Modern Slavery Act 2015 seeks to address the role of businesses in preventing modern slavery occurring in their supply chains and organisations. It applies to businesses of a certain size, who are required to publish a statement setting out the steps they have taken to comply with the Act.

Our statement

Atlantic Precision Engineering Ltd is a privately-owned sub-contract precision machining company. We are a make-to-drawing SME performing general machining and light assembly tasks in a wide range of metals, plastics and composite material.

We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships, and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place anywhere in our business or in our supply chains.

Atlantic Precision condemns all activities where human rights are exploited or abused and we support the actions of all governments and organisations to increase supply chain transparency and enable companies to assist in the eradication of such practices

Our employees are our biggest asset and we value them highly.

We want our suppliers and contractors to support our zero tolerance approach to modern slavery, and we've have taken the following steps in support of this goal:

- mapped our supply chains and carried out a risk-based assessment of our suppliers
- written to key suppliers to seek confirmation of their compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the "Act") or that they have otherwise taken steps to ensure their business and their suppliers' businesses are, and remain, free from modern slavery
- reviewed our internal policies to address modern slavery issues
- carried out internal training to ensure the risks relating to modern slavery are understood and mitigated

Our review of supplier relationships and internal policies is ongoing.
